Congratulations to Glenwood Landing School under the leadership of Principal Bridget Finder for ranking No. 48 in NY State. For its elementary and middle school rankings this year, the news magazine said it looked at about 47,000 public elementary schools and more than 23,000 middle schools nationwide. The 2026 rankings were based on math results from 2022-23 and the English results from 2021-22, due to unavailable data from the more recent school years, according to the methodology.
